THE

Heraldry of the Hamiltons

The Duke of Abercorn, K.G.

NOTE

125 Copies of this Work have been printed, of which only 100 will be offered to the Public.

Preface.

THE Hamiltons, so far as trustworthy evidence goes, cannot equal in descent either the Stewarts or Douglasses, their history beginning about two hundred years later than that of the former, and one hundred years later than that of the latter; still their antiquity is considerable. In the introduction to the first chapter I have dealt with the suggested earlier origin of the family.

The Hamiltons were conspicuous in their loyalty to Queen Mary, and, judging by the number of marriages between members of the different branches, they were also loyal to their race.

Throughout their history one hears little of the violent deeds which characterised the Stewarts and Douglasses, and one may truthfully say the race has generally been a peaceful one.

In hereditary honours they have reached the highest rank, having acquired the Dukedoms of Abercorn, Chatelherault, and Hamilton; the Marquisates of Abercorn, Clydesdale, and Hamilton; the Earldoms of Abercorn, Arran, Cambridge, Clanbrassill (twice), Haddington, Lanark, and Rothes; the Viscounties of Boyne, Claneboye, Hamilton, Limerick, and Strabane; the Baronies of Aberbrothwick, Abercorn, Avon, Bargany, Belhaven, Binning, Brancepeth, Claneboye, Holmpatrick, Innerdale, Kilpatrick, Machaneschyre, Melros of Tynninghame, Paisley, Polmont, Stentoun; also the Baronies of Hamilton of Dalzell, Glenawly, Hambleton, Mountcastle, Strabane, and Wishaw. They have also had fourteen Baronetcies conferred on them.

In personal honours they have been Knights of the Garter, Thistle, and St. Patrick, and also of all the lower orders of Knighthood.

The standard history of the family is John Anderson's Historical and Genealogical Memoirs of the House of Hamilton, published 1825, but its author admits that many of the accounts of the smaller branches are not to be trusted owing to "the suspicious assertions of family vanity and doubtful tradition."

In this work, where no better account was to be found, I have in the main followed Anderson, correcting and supplementing his account wherever possible, giving my authority for doing so.

One reason for following the House of Hamilton is that many of the Armorial Bearings appear to have been granted on the assumption that the pedigrees there given were correct.

ARMS.

The distinguishing Arms of the family are a red shield charged with three argent or ermine cinquefoils, generally pierced. By referring to the Plates it will be observed that the cadets usually differenced by adding a small charge in the centre of the shield.

HAMILTON BOOKS.

In addition to Anderson's work above referred to are:—

- (1.) George Chalmers' Hamilton Family, 1807.
 - (2.) Wm. Aiton's An Enquiry into the Pedigree, Descent, etc., of the Chiefs of the Hamilton Family, 1827.
 - (3.) T. R. Buchanan's Memoirs of the House of Hamilton, 1828.
 - (4.) J. Riddell's Reply thereto, 1828.
 - (5.) T. K. Lowry's The Hamilton Manuscripts, 1867.
 - (6.) The Pedigree of the Hamilton Family, by Audi alteram partem (? Joseph Bain).
 - (7.) Sir William Fraser's Memorials of the Earls of Haddington, 1889.
- See also Douglas' Peerage and Baronage, Scots Peerage, etc.

In order to save space I have dealt with the males alone, and I have omitted courtesy titles.

In conclusion, I have to thank Sir James Balfour Paul, Lord Lyon, for allowing me to consult the Records in the Lyon Office; Mr F. J. Grant, Lyon Clerk, for valuable assistance; and Mr W. Rae Macdonald, for allowing me to examine Hamilton Seals in his possession, accounts of which have not yet been published.

PEDIGREE I.

Hamilton and Bargany.

CHAPTER I.

The Hamiltons.

IN the days when a long pedigree, without regard to accuracy, was the proud possession of every noble or gentle family, it was the custom to trace the Hamiltons back to the Beaumonts or Belmonts, Earls of Leicester from about 1107 to 1204. The reasons why this family was selected were—First, that on the Seal of Robert, fourth and last Earl of Leicester, who died 1204, appears a single cinquefoil pierced ermine, and the Hamiltons have always borne three cinquefoils, which were supposed to be the heraldic difference of a younger son. The second reason arose out of the Hamilton Crest and Motto, the former an oak tree in which is fixed a frame saw, and the latter the single word "Through." The story runs that "Sir Gilbert de Hamilton," flying from the Court of King Edward II. of England in 1323, was closely pursued, and to escape capture, he and his servant changed clothes with two woodcutters, and set to work. When the pursuers passed without noticing them, Hamilton cried to his servant "Through"; hence the origin of Crest and Motto. The weak spots in the story are that Sir Gilbert's son was in Scotland twenty-seven years earlier, and also that the Crest of Sir John Hamilton, which appears on his Seal in 1388, was a boar's head. The tree with the horn of the antelope supporter doing duty as a saw was first used by the first Lord Hamilton, and is shown on his Seal in 1477. The Motto appears first on the Seal of the Duke of Chateherault in 1560.

In the Introduction to the Report on the Hamilton MSS. it is stated that a Walter Fitz Gilbert of Northumberland married Emma de Umfraville, and it is suggested that as one of the earliest ancestors of the Hamiltons was a Walter Fitz Gilbert, and also that as the Umfravilles bore a single cinquefoil (but always within an orb of crosses patty) on their Shield, the Scottish Hamiltons may have had a Northumbrian origin, but the Hamiltons would not be likely to take Arms from the female side, and the Arms of Fitz Gilbert as a surname were apparently Or, three chevrons gules, which have no resemblance to those of Hamilton. It has also been suggested that as a Roger and Robert de Hameldon appear in Northumberland about 1209, the Hamiltons through the similarity of name may be descended from one or other of them, but there is no proof of this.

The Hamiltons may rest content with their real history. It is true they cannot claim the same antiquity as the Stewarts or Douglasses, they could not rise to the level of the Stewarts in being kings, but they came very near the goal when they were declared heirs to the throne in 1543. They contested the power of the Douglasses, reached as high a point in family honours, and survived them, as the many honours they hold to-day testify. Their proudest boast may well be that they were "the loyalist when nearest to the throne."

I shall now pass on to the true history of the Hamiltons, so far as our present knowledge extends.

Authority—Scots Peerage.

- (1) GILBERT, of whom nothing is known except that he was father of:—
- (2) SIR WALTER FITZ GILBERT DE HAMELDONE, died before 1346, whose name appears in the Ragman Roll of 1296. In 1314 he was Captain of Bothwell Castle for the English, but after Bannockburn he surrendered the castle to Robert Bruce, and was rewarded with the lands of Machan (Dalsersf), which had belonged to John Comyn. At a later date he also received the lands of Cadzow, Kinneil, Lambert, and Auldcaithy. He married, first, Helen —, and, second, Mary Gordon, supposed to be a daughter of Sir Adam Gordon of that ilk. He had issue:—
- (a) David Fitz Walter (No. 3).
 (b) John Fitz Walter, ancestor of the Hamiltons of Innerwick (No. 570).
- (3) SIR DAVID FITZ WALTER, SECOND OF CADZOW, died about 1376. Taken prisoner at battle of Neville's Cross, 1346; founded chaplainry in Glasgow Cathedral, 1361. He is said to have married a daughter of the Earl of Ross, by whom he had the following sons:—
- (a) David (No. 4).
 (b) Sir John Hamilton of Fingaltoun, ancestor of the Hamiltons of Preston (No. 513).
- And possibly:—
- (c) Walter Hamilton, said to be ancestor of the Hamiltons of Cambuskeith and Sanquhar (No. 545).
 (d) Alan Hamilton of Larbert.

ARMS on Seal, 1371.—Three cinquefoils (Laing).

- (4) DAVID HAMILTON, THIRD OF CADZOW, died about 1385. He was the first to adopt the surname of Hamilton. He married Janet, daughter of Sir William Keith of Galston, who survived him and re-married. They had issue:—
- (a) John (No. 5).
 (b) Sir William, ancestor of the Hamiltons of Bathgate (No. 434).
 (c) Andrew, said to be ancestor of the Hamiltons of Udston (No. 442).
 (d) John (second), ancestor of Hamilton of Bardowie (No. 470).
- And possibly:—
- (e) George, said to be ancestor of Hamilton of Borland (No. 484).
- (5) SIR JOHN HAMILTON, FOURTH OF CADZOW, may have been killed at battle of Homildon, 14th September 1402. He married, about 1388, Jacoba, daughter of Sir James Douglas of Dalkeith, and had issue:—
- (a) James (No. 6).
 (b) David, said to be ancestor of Hamilton of Dalsersf (No. 233).
 (c) Walter, probably ancestor of Hamilton of Raploch (No. 241).

ARMS on Seal, 1388.—Three cinquefoils. CREST: A boar's head (Laing).

(6) JAMES HAMILTON, FIFTH OF CADZOW, died about 1440. He married Janet, daughter of Alexander Livingstone of Callandar (but she may have been his second wife). He had issue:—

(a) James (No. 7).

(b) Alexander, said to be ancestor of Hamilton of Silvertonhill (No. 131).

(c) John, died before 1455, who had a charter of the lands of Whitecamp and Kirkhope, 14th June 1449. He had two sons:—

(1) William. { Both named in the entail of 1455
(2) Robert. { (see No. 7), and both died without issue.

(d) Gavin, Provost of the Church of Bothwell. He left natural sons. (See No. 176).

(7) JAMES HAMILTON, died 6th November 1479. On 3rd July 1445 his lands were erected into a Lordship, and he was then created LORD HAMILTON. On 17th December 1453 he was granted the lands of Elliestoun, Linlithgow, by his brother-in-law, the Earl of Strathearn. On 23rd October 1455 he had a special charter of his lands, and the following are mentioned in the remainder:—

(1) To James Hamilton, his natural son.

(2) To any other natural sons.

(3) To Alexander Hamilton, his brother.

(4) To William and Robert Hamilton, sons of his late brother, John.

(5) To Thomas Hamilton, natural son of his brother, Gavin.

(6) To his nearest heirs bearing the name and Arms of Hamilton.

He married, first, about 1441, Euphemia, daughter of Patrick Graham, Earl of Strathearn, and widow of Archibald, fifth Earl of Douglas. She died about September 1468. He married, second, 1474, Mary Stewart, daughter of King James II., and widow of Thomas Boyd, Earl of Arran, who died in 1488. He had issue:—

(a) James (No. 8).

He also had the following natural children:—

(b) James Hamilton, named in the entail of 1455, died before 1473.

(c) John Hamilton of Broomhill (No. 107).

(d) Sir Patrick Hamilton of Kincavil (No. 127).

(e) David Hamilton, appointed Bishop of Argyll or Lismore 3rd April 1497. Died 1523.

Arms on Seal, undated.—Three cinquefoils (Macdonald).

Arms on Seals, 1444 and 1446.—Three cinquefoils (Laing). c. 1450-55.—Gules, three cinquefoils ermine (Armorial de Berry). [Plate II., fig. 1.] On Seal, 1477.—Three cinquefoils. CREST: A tree, the horns of the dexter supporter doing duty as a saw. SUPPORTERS: Two antelopes with pennons behind them bearing arms—Dexter, On a chief two stars; Sinister, Three boars' heads (Macdonald).

(8) JAMES, SECOND LORD HAMILTON, born about 1475; died 26th March 1529. On 8th August 1503 he was created EARL OF ARRAN, and on 30th April 1520 he and his followers were defeated by the Douglases at the battle called "Cleanse the Causeway" in Edinburgh. He married, first, Elizabeth, daughter of Alexander, second Lord Home, but divorced her about

1504 on the grounds that her first husband, Thomas Hay, was still alive at the time of marriage. He married, second, November 1516, Janet, daughter of Sir David Beaton of Creich, and widow of Sir Robert Livingstone of Easter Wemyss and Drumry. By her the Earl had:—

(a) James (No. 9).

(b) Gavin Hamilton, died before 1549, leaving a natural son:—

(1) Gavin Hamilton, legitimated 21st February 1553-54.

He had also the following natural sons:—

(c) Sir James Hamilton of Finnart, ancestor of Hamilton of Gilkerscleugh (No. 75).

(d) John Hamilton, Archbishop of St. Andrews, ancestor of Hamilton of Blair (No. 87).

(e) Sir John Hamilton of Clydesdale and Samuelston (No. 103).

(f) James Hamilton of Sprouston, died 29th October 1585. He married, contract dated 14th September 1551, Marion, daughter of Patrick Hepburn of Fairnington, and had:—

(1) Alexander Hamilton.

(2) John Hamilton, succeeded his father, and died August 1587, leaving three daughters.

(3) Patrick Hamilton.

(4) James Hamilton.

(5) Andrew Hamilton.

(6) Thomas Hamilton.

(g) James Hamilton, appointed Bishop of Argyll or Lismore 14th July 1553; died 6th January 1579-80. He joined the Protestant party in 1560. His Will recorded 18th March 1590-91 and 17th April 1605 (Edinburgh). He left a lawful son:—

(1) William Hamilton.

Arms on Seal, 1556.—1 and 4. Three cinquefoils. 2 and 3. A lymphad (Laing).

Arms on Seal, 1517.—1 and 4. A lymphad. 2 and 3. Three cinquefoils. [Plate II., fig. 2.] On Seal, 1525.—1 and 4. Three cinquefoils. 2 and 3. A lymphad. [Plate II., fig. 3.] CREST: An oak tree traversed by a frame saw (Laing).

(9) JAMES, SECOND EARL OF ARRAN, died 22nd January 1574-75. On the death of King James V. in 1542 he was appointed Regent of Scotland, and on 13th March 1542-43 declared heir-presumptive of the Crown. He began the building of Hamilton Palace, which was still unfinished in 1542. On 8th February 1548-49 he was created DUKE OF CHATELHERAULT in France. He married, about 23rd September 1532, Margaret Douglas, daughter of James, third Earl of Morton, who was still alive in 1579. They had issue:—

(a) JAMES, THIRD EARL OF ARRAN, born about 1537; died March 1609. He was insane, and his brother, John, took charge of the estates.

Arms on Seal, 1560.—1 and 4. Three cinquefoils. 2 and 3. A lymphad, with flag at the mast head. CREST: An oak tree traversed by a frame saw. SUPPORTERS: Two antelopes, each gorged with a coronet and chained. MOTTO: "Through."

[Plate II., fig. 2.] c. 1565.—Hamilton and Arran quarterly. CREST as above. SUPPORTERS: Two antelopes, each gorged with an antique crown. MOTTO as above (Workman's MS.).

- (10) JOHN HAMILTON, born about 1542; died 6th April 1604. Owing to his elder brother's insanity, was treated as head of the family. In 1547 he was appointed to the Abbey of Inchaffray, and in 1551 Commendator of Arbroath. Like all his family he sided with Queen Mary; the Hamilton estates were forfeited in 1579, and he fled to France. Returning to Scotland, he was on 17th April 1599 created MARQUIS OF HAMILTON, Earl of Arran, and Lord Evan. He married, contract dated 30th December 1577, Margaret Lyon, daughter of John, seventh Lord Glamis, and widow of Gilbert, fourth Earl of Cassillis, and had:—

(a) Edward Hamilton, died young.

(b) James (No. 11).

He had also a natural son:—

(c) Sir John Hamilton of Lettrick, ancestor of Lord Bargany (No. 15).

Arms as Commendator of Arbroath, 1596.—1 and 4. Three cinquefoils. 2 and 3. A lymphad (Macdonald).

- (11) JAMES, SECOND MARQUIS OF HAMILTON, born 1589; died 2nd March 1624-25. Succeeded his uncle as Earl of Arran in 1609. On 5th May 1608 he was created Lord Aberbrothwick (Arbroath), and on 16th June 1619 he was created a Peer of England as EARL OF CAMBRIDGE and Lord Innerdale. He married, contract dated 30th January 1603, Anna Cunningham, daughter of James, Earl of Glencairn. They had issue:—

(a) James (No. 12).

(b) William (No. 13).

Arms on Seals, 1620-30.—1 and 4. Three cinquefoils. 2 and 3. A lymphad. SUPPORTERS: Two antelopes (Laing).

- (12) JAMES, THIRD MARQUIS OF HAMILTON, born 19th June 1606; executed 9th March 1648-49. He sided with King Charles I., and on 12th April 1643 the King created him DUKE OF HAMILTON, Marquis of Clydesdale, Earl of Arran and Cambridge, Lord Avon and Innerdale. Like the King he was sentenced to death and beheaded on the date mentioned above. He married, in 1620, Margaret Fielding, daughter of William, Earl of Denbigh, who died 10th May 1638, having had:—

(a) Charles, Earl of Arran, died aged about ten years, and was buried, 30th April 1640, in Westminster Abbey.

(b) James Hamilton. } Both also died young.

(c) William Hamilton. }

(d) Anne, who became Duchess of Hamilton (No. 14).

- (13) WILLIAM, SECOND DUKE OF HAMILTON, succeeded his brother, born 14th December 1616. Severely wounded at the battle of Worcester, and died 12th September 1651. On 31st March 1639 he was created EARL OF LANARK, Lord Machaneshyre and Polmont. He led the Scots Army into England, and died as above. At his death the English titles of Earl of Cambridge and Lord Innerdale became extinct, the Scottish titles of Duke of Hamilton, Marquis of Clydesdale, Earl of Arran and Cambridge, Lord Avon and Innerdale, conferred 1643, passed to his niece (No. 14). He married, 26th May 1638, Elizabeth Maxwell, daughter of James, Earl of Dirleton, and had one son:—

(a) James, Lord Polmont, died in infancy; buried, 12th March 1647-48, in Westminster Abbey.

 (c) Alexander (No. 496).

- (496) ALEXANDER HAMILTON OF BLANTERFERME. Will recorded 21st September 1774 (Glasgow). Died unmarried 1773, and was succeeded by his sister's son, James Coats.

Note.—Joseph Bain, in Genealogist, Vol. xvi., p. 75, asserts that this pedigree is wrong, and says that the immediate ancestor of Blanterferme was the Rev. Wm. Hamilton, Rector of Cambuslang, who, in 1557, had two natural sons, James and Robert.

Olivestob.

Authorities—House of Hamilton and Nisbet's Heraldry.

This family is also said to be a cadet of Borland.

- (497) WILLIAM HAMILTON OF BARDANOCK is described by Nisbet "as a second son of Hamilton of Boardlan." He was father of :—
- (498) JOHN HAMILTON OF MUIRHOUSE OR MURRAYS. He married Anne, daughter of James Elphinstone of Inverdovat, Fife, and had :—
- (a) John (No. 499).

He was appointed tutor to the children of his brother, Hugh, 3rd May 1667. He apparently married Sarah Halyburton, whose Will, in which she is described as his relict, was recorded 26th January 1722 (Edinburgh).
- (501) HUGH HAMILTON, Merchant Burgess of Edinburgh, had a son :—
- (a) Charles Hamilton, and also three daughters, to whom their uncle, William Hamilton of Muirhouse (No. 500), was appointed tutor 3rd May 1667.

Sweden.

Authority—House of Hamilton.

The family tradition was that they were descended from Archibald Hamilton of Deserf, said to be son of Lord Claud Hamilton (No. 20), but apparently Lord Claud had no such son. The author of the House of Hamilton thinks this family is more likely to be a branch of Olivestob, and mentions :—

- (502) HARRY HAMILTON, fourth son of John Hamilton (No. 498), as the probable founder. The next mentioned is :—

- (503) MALCOLM HAMILTON OF BALLYGALLY AND MOYNER, CO. TYRONE, AND BISHOP OF CASHIEL, died 1629. He married Mary, daughter of Robert Wilkie of Sachtonhill, and had :—
- (a) Archibald Hamilton of Ballygally and Moyner, died s.p. He married Anne Balfour, daughter of James, Lord Glenawly.
